KAMS READY FOR PUNAHOU

Final Cross-Country Run to Determine Make-Up of Kam Team Won by J. Jones.

Yesterday's road race at Kamehameha determined the make-up of the team that will represent the school in the match race against Punahou next Monday. The run was over the same course that the three elimination trials were stepped off on, from the school campus to Fort Shafter and return, and incidentally the school championship for cross-country work was topped by J. Jones, who did the distance in 15 minutes 3 seconds, a fine performance. J. Amos was a close second.

B. Benjamin, the star runner of the school, was out of the race and in the hospital. Had he been a starter more interest would have been shown in the run.

Seven of the place winners in the former events took part in the race with a large entry of other candidates who were out to make a place among the first twelve who will represent the school in the cross-country run against Punahou Monday. In all there were eighteen men who started and fourteen finished inside of the limited time of 22 minutes. Among the dark horses who made a place on the team were L. Eaton and J. Kauai.

The prospects of a strong team representing the school in the race Monday are bright and the Kam students are quite positive that J. Jones will be among the first to cross the line.

The first six men who finished yesterday were: J. Jones, J. Amos, J. Kauai, P. Wright, C. Mitchell, J. Wright.

The following boys will make up the remainder of the team: H. Godfrey, G. Benjamin, F. Kaland, M. Le-walo, C. Akana and W. Napihau.

CRUCIAL POINT FOR SOCCER MEN

Tomorrow will be the turning point of the soccer season. The championship of the Hawaiian Association Football League hangs on the result of the game between High School and Punahou, for if the Highs win or draw they clinch the cup. The Punahous are not going to let their laurels of last season slip from them without a struggle, and every afternoon this week the men have been out for practice. The best contest of the season is generally expected. It should be the best exhibition of soccer to date, and anyone who cares for the game should make the trip to Molokai.

The opening game of the usual double-header will be between the Kamehameha Alumni and Mails teams.

SAILOR ATHLETES READY FOR THE GUN

SAILOR CLARK. S. J. WOODWARD.
Two crack athletes from the cruiser Colorado who are entered in the fleet field meet to be held Sunday.

With the big fleet field meet only two days off there is a lot of speculation both ashore and afloat as to the outcome of the ball game and athletic events. The West Virginia ball tossers are keen to get revenge on the All-Chinese team that ran off with the long end of the score in the first game between the two teams, played ten days ago, and if Honolulu fans feel sportily inclined they can get their money covered by the betting fraternity afloat. The game should be a real thing right through. The West Virginians have been out practicing nearly every day, and the fact that the second division flagship did not go outside this week has been a great thing for the team. The Chinese Athletic Club hasn't been taking things for granted either. The men have been putting in some hard ticks of practice, and the losing team Sunday will have no excuses to offer.

The feature of the field meet will be the relay race between the West Virginia, California, Colorado and South Dakota. Four men from each ship will strive to land the coveted first place. There is a lot of class to the entries in all the events, and some fast times should be made.

The meet is a benefit affair for the Naval Relief Society, and a big gate is expected. Two o'clock's the time, Sunday's the day and Athletic Park's the place.

Following is the list of events to date:

100 yards dash—Francis, Hare, U. S. S. California; Woodward, O'Loughlin, U. S. S. West Virginia; Pettus, Suchy, Siebel, O'Brien, U. S. S. Colorado; Lai Tin, Yamashiro, Honolulu.
One mile walk—Ayres, Jackson, Honolulu.
220-yard dash—Francis, Bowman, Hare, U. S. S. California; Woodward, O'Loughlin, U. S. S. West Virginia; Pettus, Suchy, Siebel, O'Brien, U. S. S. Colorado; Lai Tin, Yamashiro, Honolulu.
Half-mile race—A. J. Johnson, Dunn, U. S. S. California; Anderson, U. S. S. West Virginia; Hart, U. S. S. South Dakota; S. Kahalewai, Honolulu.
440-yard dash—Bowman, Lane, U. S. S. California; Woodward, Reeves, U. S. S. West Virginia; Farren, Hoeber, Woodward, U. S. S. Colorado; Arthur, Kau, Ed Chang, D. Kahalewai, Wing Kwal, A. B. Lau, Honolulu.
One mile race—Mikowski, Bell, Dunn, U. S. S. California; Birdsell, Helm, U. S. S. West Virginia; Woodward, Blumenthal, U. S. S. Colorado; Mauldin, Hart, Newkirk, U. S. S. South Dakota; S. Kahalewai, A. B. Lau, Ed Chan, Honolulu.
Relay race, four laps—Johnson, Bowman, Lane, Hare, U. S. S. California; Woodward, O'Loughlin, Reeves, Anderson, U. S. S. West Virginia; Farren, Pettus, Siebel, Woodward, U. S. S. Colorado.

JIM FLYNN A GREAT BELIEVER IN ROAD WORK TO PUT FIGHTERS IN BEST SHAPE

Jim Flynn will not deviate from his old system of training when he begins to prepare for his final fight for the world's heavyweight championship with Jack Johnson, although he will have Tommy Ryan, ex-middleweight title holder, looking after his work.

Flynn believes in sticking to a course of preparation as well as to a style of battling, in spite of the fact that he is to get ready for the most important fight encounter of his career. Flynn is in the city and readily strips to box any comers.

Tommy Ryan may be able to teach Flynn a few tricks about boxing, but he will not take the Pueblo fireman away from his own manner of getting in trim. Flynn needs to learn a few points about the inside angle of mulling, as he is not close to being thorough in his boxing.

That does not worry him any, because he has a style of his own that has been bringing home the money and he is not going to pass it up.

When it comes to preparing for a fight Flynn knows just what he wants and what he needs. He realizes that he does not have to go through ten and fifteen rounds of boxing every afternoon, because he is not a heavy-weight like Johnson, who depends considerably on his cleverness to help him out. Flynn's strength lies in his ability to be aggressive, rush and get inside, much on the order of Battling Nelson and Ad Wolgast. Like these two lightweights, he does on mulling and can assimilate a great amount of punishment to land a few blows.

There is no question but that Ryan will attempt to teach Flynn a lot about boxing, but it will be of no use. Flynn is not built to be that kind of a battler. And it probably will spoil him if it is attempted. Trying to make a clever boxer of a natural rugged fighter has ruined many a promising man. Flynn seems to know this and he is not going to allow anyone to change his style.

He is willing to listen, and if he sees it will be an improvement to his style and he can operate it successfully in the ring he will annex it to his present assortment of tricks. But all this will make no difference to his training.

Ever since Flynn has been fighting he has depended on road work to get him in shape. Of course, he has not passed up inside exercise, but he likes the spins on the road to fit him for battle. He thinks there is nothing like it. And there is not, for his style of scrapping.

Flynn is a natural fighter and he goes to it at the tap of the gong. To do this and keep it up for any number of rounds requires one's wind to be in excellent trim. Flynn starts out on the road the first day he opens training and continues it until one day before the conflict. He does all the way from ten to fifteen miles.

OUTRIGGER MEMBERS WANT LIVE WIRES ON BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Progressive Element Calls for Action During Coming Year—Election Tomorrow.

The Outrigger Club is howling for action. The progressives are in the saddle, and they intend to make 1912 a hummer. If lots of ginger and original ideas can turn the trick. There is money in the treasury, and if improvements on the club property are to be made the live wires want to see them started soon.

Hence there is a lot of interest in the club's annual election which will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in the rooms of the Public Service Association. The progressives have put up a slate, and unless another ticket is under cover to be sprung at the last moment, it is the only one in the field and will undoubtedly go through.

The board of directors authorized the president to appoint a committee of three members to nominate a ticket for the year to come. The committee, consisting of J. R. Galt (chairman), E. Podmore and E. M. Ehrhorn, drew up a list of names proposed for nomination as follows:

Officers—President, G. H. Tuttle; vice-president, Irwin Spalding; secretary, C. F. Maxwell; treasurer, A. M. Nowell; captain, E. F. Mahanphy; directors, with the foregoing officers ex officio directors, J. P. Cooke, A. G. Smith, Dr. Doremus Scudder; chairman of house committee, also ex officio director, E. M. Ehrhorn; house committee, E. M. Ehrhorn (chairman), A. C. C. Linnemann, H. M. von Holt.

"BEAN BALL" DID FOR FRED CLARK

PITTSBURG, Pa.—When lanky Harry Saltee shot that fast one crashing bush against Fred Clarke's right temple in St. Louis on July 2, 1911, it marked the beginning of the end for Clark as one of the greatest player-managers of all time. It didn't mark the veteran pilot's finish so far as he personally was concerned. Persons never and dearest to him than any fan long had begged him to quit. Fear that some day his daring and aggressiveness would meet with serious injury had caused his family to plead with him that he give up playing—that he take his place among other old masters as a bench manager, and that, like Jennings, Griffith, McGraw, Chance and Dahlgren, he wear his uniform for bench privileges only.

It is said by many that when Saltee "beamed" Clarke in that memorable Sunday clash with the Cardinals, it was the coin that flipped the future destiny of the Pirate boss. It wasn't Saltee's fault. It was the misfortune of both that Clarke, crowding the plate as usual, was caught by the fast "insider" and dropped senseless in the loam. It troubles the Pirate manager for two weeks, but there was no lasting ill effect. But it enabled Mrs. Clarke and their two daughters to prevail on him to "swear off."

RANDOM SNAPSHOTS AT THE SPORTING TARGET

Beals Wright and Maurice McLoughlin are due here Tuesday, on the Marmon. They have had three weeks to forget about the Davis Cup matches, and will probably be prepared to enjoy their five-day stay in Honolulu. Instead of "Let us forget," the counterstrain for the day will be "Let's forget."

Six clubs will be represented in the big athletic meet to be held February 17 by local Chinese sportsmen. Sam Hop is promoting the affair, and has made an excellent start.

"Every man his own promoter" is "Slim" Gilmore's slogan these days. He is going to find an opponent, and a purse, and then put on a boxing show of his own.

Captain R. S. Douglas of the Glacier is the keenest golfer in the navy. He stays on the links so late at night that he can now follow the flight of the ball in the dark.

C. G. Bockus has taken up golf, but to date no cables have been received stating that President Taft has gone over to tennis.

SOLDIER INVENTS A DEADLY SIGHT

NE WYORK, N. Y.—Sergeant Omondson, a famous British sharpshooter, who has several times won the king's prize for marksmanship at Bisley, is the inventor of a rifle sighting device which eliminates the necessity of finding the range, according to news received by experts here. The invention is said to be very simple in operation and it is reported that tests under skirmishing conditions have shown a percentage of hits of 95 as compared with 19 by ordinary sights.

PLAYERS HIT WINNING GAIT

Take Two Out of Three From Bank of Hawaii in Streaky Rolling.

Players	6	2	4	.333
Brunswick-Balke	6	1	5	.166

The bankers and Players met last night on the polished paths, and after three games, none of which were at all close, the latter made it two in three for the evening. The rolling was streaky to say the least. The Players' second game, 779, was the third highest total of the tournament to date, while in the following game the bankers scored 571, the lowest yet chalked up.

R. Loftus rolled the first 200 in a match game on the "Y" alleys, while Wood bowled a nice average game of 182.

For the bankers E. H. Clark got the high score, 176, while Hoogs just nosed out the captain by two pins for high average, 146.

OVERHEARD ON THE MAPLE BOULEVARDS

Wood strengthened the Players team by the addition of Loftus. He couldn't get the feel of the drives in the first game, but came through nicely in the next two.

The bankers show good team work, but are sadly in need of practice. They jolly each other along and roll as a whole, but the pins don't fall right for them.

Individually the Brunswick-Balke are one of the strongest teams in the league. But spot their place on the percentage table.

Lots of interest in the tournament. If there were a couple more alleys at the "Y" they would be busy right along.

Nottage says he left his bowling arm in the games hall along with his basketball togs.
